

PROHIS ARE AT WORK

The Atlanta Prohibition Club Will Enter the Coming Fight for Offices.

IT MEETS TONIGHT AT THE HALL

No Tickets Will Be Put Out, but the Men Who Are Now Candidates Will Be Discussed.

The city political campaign will grow warmer after today.

The Atlanta Prohibition Club, which has long been a factor in local politics, is in the contest and the indications are that the members of the club will make it interesting for all the candidates with whom they do not agree.

So far the members of the club have been discussing the situation with the voters of the city, and among them the candidates have been mixing. But up to yesterday they had not decided to have any active action in the matter. For several days, however, the members of the work have been actively at work looking over the field and yesterday it was decided that the club should come together and take some action in the coming campaign. In accordance with that decision, a special meeting of the club was called for tonight at 3 o'clock. The call, which is official, states that the meeting will be the most important the club has ever held and urges all the members to be present.

"We do not intend," said a member of the club yesterday afternoon, "to make a fight on any one that is now out or on any one that may come out, neither do we intend to put out a ticket of our own. But if we get together and talk the matter over we will know just where we stand and we can agree on those we want to support in the race. The meeting will not be for the purpose of putting an antagonistic ticket to the candidates now out; in fact there are some of them we will support. But next year will be an important one in the history of the city of Atlanta, and we want the very best men we can get to serve in the city council."

The proposition to change the date of the primary from September 2d to October 2d was discussed throughout the city yesterday and was generally endorsed.

It is the candidates who are now opposed than any one else to the change. They all want the fight over as soon as possible and among them there is concerted effort to prevent a postponement. The members of the city executive committee are willing to the change when they ascertain that the state executive committee would like it. Even those of the city executive committee who were at first opposed to the change are rapidly brought over when it is stated that the state executive committee wants it. The probabilities are that a paper will be circulated today and tomorrow among the members of the committee asking them to sign the request to the chairman, Captain W. D. Ellis, authorizing the change or requesting a special session of the committee.

The meetings in the first and fifth wards tomorrow night will give another impetus to the campaign and from now on the contest will be a warm one.

The only new entries in the race yesterday were Mr. Mark Tolbert, who has started in the race for alderman from the north side, and Mr. J. W. Phillips, the Broad street commission merchant, who has determined to run for city clerk.

A GOOD DAY AT JEROME

AND A SLOW Track and Dull Day at Saratoga.

Race Track, Jerome Park, N. Y., August 22.—A good programme was presented here today, and one of the largest crowds that has yet attended the meeting witnessed the two match races, besides five other attractive events that were down for decision.

Valmythe, the even-money favorite, finished in the neck in the first race, while Ettrate, who was backed from 2d to 10d to 1, galloped home an easy winner by a length and a half. In the second race Governor Sheehan, who went to the post at 5 to 1, won by a neck. In the first match race of the day, the fourth event, Pochino won as he pleased by two lengths. The sixth race was reduced by the blue pencil to a decided match between Connors and Bandit. Bandit at the outset made a pace to suit himself and was fighting for his head. The next race, the third on the card, was the event of the day, the match between Stonenell and Glenmoyne. Both opened at 9 to 10 in the betting, but the odds were soon reduced to 5 to 6, when he went to the post the favorite, winning easily by a length and a half in the fast time of 1:12½. After the race, when the jockey was asked if he thought that Bandit was two and one-half pounds short of weight, after consultation the stewards ordered Stonenell's number run up as the winner.

First race, for fillies, two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs—Ettrate, $9, R. Doggett, 10 to 1; won by a length and a half; Emma second; C. C. third; Time, 1:11.

Second race, for two-year-olds and up-wards, the Titan course, about 1,400 yards—Governor Sheehan, 100, E. Tribe, 5 to 1; won; Speculator, second; Potentate third; Time, 1:12.

Third race, for two-year-olds, selling five and a half furlongs—Harry Reed, 110, Sims, 2 to 5, won by a length and a half; Time, 1:12.

Fourth race, match race, Titan course—Pochino, 107, Hamilton, 4 to 5, won; Armistead second; Time, 1:21; only two starters.

Fifth race, for three-year-olds and up-wards, the Titan course—Black Hawk, 100, R. Doggett, 3 to 2; won; Harry Aloua, second; Solitaire third; Time, 1:22.

Sixth race, selling one and one-sixteenth miles—Pochino, 103, Doggett, 100, R. Connors second; Time, 1:53½. Only two starters.

Seventh race, match race, six furlongs—Glenmoyne, 110, Hamilton, 4 to 5, won by a length and a half but was disqualified on account of being short of weight, and Stonenell, 115, Sims, even, was declared the winner. Glenmoyne's time, 1:54%.

Racing at Saratoga.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 22.—The track was slow today. From the racing point of view the day was an uninteresting one the whole. Eight horses faced the flag in the second race, a dash of five furlongs, and Fleischman's Promenade was a hot favorite and an easy winner by ten lengths. Leigh & Rose's Urnia was the most heavily backed for the five and a half furlong dash, which she won in the field of six young-sters, but she was defeated by Peppermint, second choice. The fourth race, a dash of five furlongs, brought out five maiden two-year-olds—Bennett's Rosmar, was first and won by a length and a half; Peppermint, second; and the others, 1:14.

Second race, purse of $500, selling seven furlongs—Promenade, 2d, Perkins, 2d, Tuscadero, 2d, Blue Garter third; Time, 1:24½.

Third race, purse of $500, for two-year-olds, one and one-half furlongs—Pepper, 102, Perkins, 11 to 5, won by a length and a half; Urnia second; Campania third; Time, 1:12.

Fourth race, purse of $500, for maiden two-year-olds, selling five furlongs—Rosmar, 104, Ballantine, 7 to 5, won; Doroa second; and the others, 1:14.

Fifth race, purse of $500, for three-year-olds, selling seven furlongs—Rightmore, 105, Brooks, 2 to 5; won; Innocent second; Dauntless third; Time, 1:24.

Sixth race, purse of $500, one and one-sixteenth miles, over six hurdles—Bassano, 102, Blakely, 6 to 5; won; Woodford second; Bassano, 105; Time, 3:02½.

The third race for horses of the 30 class, was won by George D. Bennett's Brave Boy, George M. Hardin's Maggie Watkins, second; B. P. Williamson's Nellie Jewell, third; best time 2:51. ORIGIN OF THE FIRE.

No One Seems to Know the Gould Building Fire Started.

The losses in the fire at the Gould building will probably prove more serious than at first supposed.

A low estimate placed by a prominent insurance man yesterday afternoon named the loss entire at $15,000.

The room on the second floor occupied by Mr. Thomas Peters was almost entirely destroyed, and all the insurance papers of that gentleman burned. It was in this office that the fire was supposed to have originated. This, however, is not believed by Mr. Peters. It is thought by the firemen and Mr. Gould that the flames were produced by spontaneous combustion caused by a lot of rags and grease around the printing press in the rear of Mr. Peters's office.

"This might have been," said Mr. Peters, speaking of the affair yesterday afternoon, "but from all I can observe, the fire originated in the floor between the bank and my office. The printing press itself was clean, and as far as I know, no rags or paper of any kind were about it. The composing table where kept the printer's type and other materials around the press.

Another thing that leads me to think that the fire started from below is the fact that all the beams are charred and burned from the bottom, while the upper portions are intact.

"My porter, Cato, was the last one connected with my office to visit the place. I sent him there to lock up about 5 o'clock this afternoon. At that time he examined the place, as he always does, and brought me this satchel here, which I always keep at the house.

"For twenty years I have studied fires and their causes," said Mr. Peters, "and I can say that this is the most mysterious and unaccountable one that I have ever known."

For temporary quarters Mr. Peters has taken rooms on the fourth floor of the next door to the sampling rooms of Buchanan & Allen. Here were stored away a lot of goods belonging to Stix, Krouse & Co. of Cincinnati. All of these were damaged or destroyed, the loss amounting to over $1,000, which was completely covered by insurance.

The American Phonograph Company, on the third floor of the building, suffered a heavy loss, and a new stock was injured badly. The loss in this department will be heavy, and owing to the absence of one of the members of the firm who holds the insurance papers, the insurance cannot be determined.

The National Insurance Company, represented by S. Stein, Arnold & Arnold, attorneys; Mr. William Lenhart, civil engineer, and the American Trust and Banking Company, were other heavy losers by the fire.

The executive board of the association met at 3 o'clock this afternoon and handled several minor subjects pertaining to the details of association matters, and no public interest.

The matter of rates to be allowed in association territory in cotton compression during the ensuing season was docketed for consideration tomorrow.

It is expected that a delegation of compress owners and stockholders will arrive tomorrow and present an argument in favor of increasing the rate of 10 cents that has been paid for the past three years.

Major E. B. Stahlman, committee chairman, and Captain R. J. Lowry, receiver of the Savannah and Western railroad, are the only Atlanta railroad officials in attendance upon the meeting.

THE DEATH ROLL.

New Orleans, La., August 22.—Numa Dour, founder of the New Orleans Sun, one of the oldest newspapers in the south, died at his home in this city today, aged seventy-two.

Columbus, Ga., August 22.—(Special)— Bennett H. Crawford, one of the most prominent citizens of Columbus, died at his home on Thirteenth street tonight. Col.

nel Crawford's death is a great loss to this community. He was fifty-nine years of age.

He was an able lawyer for a number of years, and a member of the board of trustees of public schools of Columbus, of which body he was president at the time of his death, having been recently elected to that position to succeed the late John W. Johnson.

Col. Crawford was a member of one of the most distinguished families of Georgia. He was a brother of the late Martin J. Crawford, who was a member of the state legislature for many years and a judge of the supreme court of Georgia.

WALTON GOES DRY.

The Ladies Were at the Polls and Won Many Votes.

Social Circle, Ga., August 22.—(Special)— Walton county voted on the prohibition question today. The prohibitionists carried the county by 55% majority. A very heavy vote was polled. Prohibition will go into effect as soon as the present license es expire, which is some time in November.

The ladies took a deep interest in the election. At Monroe they were about the polls and by their appeals made many votes for prohibition.

A Joint Debate in Jackson.

Harmony Grove, Ga., August 22.—(Special)—
There was a joint debate here today between J. B. Osborne, the populist, and Dr. H. H. Carlton, of Athens. Osborne had the opening and closing, and delivered a speech. Dr. Carlton replied in a two-hour speech, which utterly annihilated Osborne. Dr. Carlton made one of the most powerful and convincing speeches ever heard in this country. The democrats had quite a jubilee.

In a Solid Democratic County.

Irwinton, Ga., August 22.—(Special)— Fully two thousand people listened to the speech of Thomas E. Watson here today in the park. He spoke mainly to the brother in black. His following is small in Putman county.

Rain Broke Up the Meeting.

Irwinton, Ga., August 22.—(Special)— Messrs. Watson and Hines spoke here on Monday to a crowd of eight hundred, more than half of whom were negroes. About fifty democrats were present. Judge Hines made, upon the whole, a rather conservative speech. Mr. Watson had spoken but a short time when a drenching rain set in
and the meeting dispersed.

Democrats.

Cuthbert, Ga., August 22.—(Special)—
The democratic executive committee of this county, together with quite a number of
prominent and influential men of the party
from different sections of the county, held

TO NAME A SENATOR.

Delegates from the Twenty-Second District Meet at Forsyth Today.

NAT HARRIS IS TO BE THE MAN

No Show for the Populist Candidate in That District—Jeff Long Is Believed to Be Innocent.

Macon, Ga., August 22.—(Special)—The twenty-second senatorial district convention meets tomorrow at Forsyth. The counties composing the district are Bibb, Monroe and Pike. N. E. Harris of Bibb, will be nominated without opposition. The Bibb delegation and Colonel Harris will leave her in the morning for Forsyth.
The delegates are Washington, Deas, J.
H. Blount, Jr., T. C. Burke, A. H. Porter,
W. B. Birch, Jud S. Cherry, Sam Altmyer,
E. J. Dinkler, John Ells, John Henry, W.
A. Goodeyer, and R. A. Flounry.

Colonel Harris will make a strenuous campaign of the district after his nomination.

He says he expects to speak in every millitia district of each of the counties of Bibb, Monroe and Pike. The last senator nominated from Bibb county was Hon. Charles L. Bartlett. Hon. George W. Gustin presided him, and he was preceded by Hon.
T. J. Simmons. Bibb has always been splendidly represented in her senator. Simmons, Gustin and Bartlett have each been judge of the Macon county fair, chairman of the county, and a member of the state legislature. It is thought that Harris has any political aspirations. He will make some splendid speeches in the campaign. They will be able, interesting and effective. Harris will be opposed by P. C. Smith, of Monroe county, the third party nominee. Harris's majority will be very large.

HON. C. L. BARTLETT.

HON. C. L. Bartlett will be nominated
as the democratic standard-bearer for congress on August 23rd. The convention of the sixth district, which is on the line of Indian River, Mr. Bartlett will make an active and vigorous campaign of the district. The third party nominee is Mr.
Whitaker, of Pike county. Bartlett's majority in the district will be easily 5,000.
He will poll the full democratic strength,
and will get other votes besides, for he is
personally popular, and everybody admires
his sterling qualities as a man. Mr. Bartlett will not confine his speech-making to the sixth district. He has tendered his services to Chairman Clay to be assigned to
any district that the latter may designate.

He Will Be Released.

It is probable that young Jeff Long will be released soon from jail, as it is the general opinion that he is not the person who attempted to assault Miss Yates. There will be no trouble for Long to prove an alibi. Several well-known and respected
white men are willing and ready to testify
out of doors as to Long's whereabouts on
the day the assault was committed.

On to Washington.

Tomorrow Mr. T. J. Carling and wife,
Mr. W. H. Schatzman, wife, daughter and others will leave for Washington, D. C., and attend the annual grand concilium of Knights of Pythias. By reason of the official position occupied by Messrs. Carling and Schatzman, the Knights have go to advantage of the regular tours of Georgia knights who will leave next Sunday for Washington. A large delegation of Knights and others from Macon will attend the conclave.

In Topeka.

Grand Secretary A. M. Wohlin, of the grand lodge of Masons of Georgia, has gone
to Topeka, Kas., in company with other prominent Masons of this state, to attend the twenty-third annual convention of the Royal Arch Masons of the United States, which convenes in Topeka tomorrow.

News Notes.

Mrs. J. H. Clancy, who has been sick several days with fever, is able to get out of her room. This will be a great relief to the many friends and admirers of this very handsome and accomplished lady.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Flane have returned from Europe.

Reed and Mr. W. B. Jennings left last evening for Marietta, where they will remain about a month.

Central City Bridge No. 2, Knights of Pythias, opened last evening and enthusiastic meeting tonight, after which a fine barbecue was served.

Mr. Fred Martin has returned from a visit to the South.

Colonel Bill Wynn, of Fort Valley, is in the city today. He is en route to Greenville to hear "Governor" Atkinson speak.

There will be a large number of attractions at the Dixie Interstate fair. The latest added to the list is living pictures. These pictures will be equal to the very best in New York.

tive speech. Mr. Watson had spoken but
a short time when a drenching rain set in
and the meeting dispersed.

Democrats.

Cuthbert, Ga., August 22.—(Special)—
The democratic executive committee of this county, together with quite a number of
prominent and influential men of the party
from different sections of the county, held

an important conference in Cuthbert yesterday. It was decided to organize clubs in the different counties and work for democratic clubs means a Waterloo for third partism. The third party has never cut any swell in this country. The committee also decided to have a grand democratic rally, sponsored and barbecue in Cuthbert, September 15th.
It is proposed to have General Evans, Major Bacon, Colonel Atkinson and several other prominent democrats here on that day.

Etowah Is for Denson.

Gadsden, Ala., August 22.—(Special)—Best
meetings were held throughout the county
to day for a county convention to select
delegates to the congressional convention
of the seventh district. Gadsden, Atalla,
East Gadsden, Phillips, Walnut Grove, Hol-
lie Hoke's Bluff and Turkey Town are
the only beats heard from, and are sold
for W. H. Denson. This insures Etowah
for Denson's nomination.

At Denson's Home Beat.

Gadsden, Ala., August 22.—(Special)—Best
meetings were held throughout the county
to day for a county convention to select
delegates to the congressional convention
of the seventh district. Gadsden, Atalla,
East Gadsden, Phillips, Walnut Grove, Hol-
lie Hoke's Bluff and Turkey Town are
the only beats heard from, and are sold
for W. H. Denson. This insures Etowah
for Denson's nomination.

Dallas Delegates Instructed.

Selma, Ala., August 22.—(Special)—Dallas county today selected sixteen delegates to the county convention, which meets in Anniston September 4th, to nominate a successor to Congressman Robbins. The number of delegates in the congressional convention is fifty-four. The Dallas delegation is instructed to vote as a unit. There are no instructions as to the candidate.

A New Factory at Huntsville.

Huntsville, Ala., August 22.—(Special)—The new furniture factory here has started and one more industry is thus added to the city's increasing list of factories.
The factory is located in the suburb known as West Huntsville.

THOMAS'S ASSAULT CONVICTED.

The Negroes Who Beat the Florist Sentenced to Five Years Apiece.

Huntsville, Ala., August 22.—(Special)—The
court circuit took up the criminal docket
Monday, and John Maddox, Simon McCalley and Alex McDonald, the three negro men who assaulted Eugene Trump while on his way home from school in the country, for purpose of robbery and murder, came into court to plead guilty.
The charge was that they had killed the boy, and the court accepted the guilty plea.

It is thought that Harris has any political aspirations. He will make some splendid speeches in the campaign. They will be able, interesting and effective. Harris will be opposed by P. C. Smith, of Monroe county, the third party nominee. Har-
ris's majority will be very large.

HON. C. L. BARTLETT.

HON. C. L. Bartlett will be nominated
as the democratic standard-bearer for congress on August 23rd. The convention of the sixth district, which is on the line of Indian River, Mr. Bartlett will make an active and vigorous campaign of the district. The third party nominee is Mr.
Whitaker, of Pike county. Bartlett's majority in the district will be easily 5,000.
He will poll the full democratic strength,
and will get other votes besides, for he is
personally popular, and everybody admires
his sterling qualities as a man. Mr. Bartlett will not confine his speech-making to
the sixth district. He has tendered his services to Chairman Clay to be assigned to
any district that the latter may designate.

He Will Be Released.

It is probable that young Jeff Long will
be released soon from jail, as it is the
general opinion that he is not the person
who attempted to assault Miss Yates. There will be no trouble for Long to prove an alibi. Several well-known and respected
white men are willing and ready to testify
out of doors as to Long's whereabouts on
the day the assault was committed.

On to Washington.

Tomorrow Mr. T. J. Carling and wife,
Mr. W. H. Schatzman, wife, daughter and
others will leave for Washington, D. C., and attend the annual grand concilium of Georgia
knights who will leave next Sunday for Washington. A large delegation of Knights
and others from Macon will attend the conclave.

In Topeka.

Grand Secretary A. M. Wohlin, of the grand lodge of Masons of Georgia, has gone
to Topeka, Kas., in company with other
prominent Masons of this state, to attend
the twenty-third annual convention of Georgia knights which convenes in Topeka tomorrow.

Some Sensible Advice.

In an editorial on the value of property owned by the colored people of Georgia, The Washington Chronicle calls attention to the fact that this prosperity of our colored citizens has been attained under democratic rule, and on this line our contemporary offers some sensible advice to them in connection with the present campaign. The Chronicle says:

The colored people of Georgia now own sixteen million dollars worth of property. This is more than the records can now be disputed by the third party. The people are trying to prejudice the colored people against the democrats. This property has been accumulated by our colored people under democratic rule, and as they are doing so well it will be wise for them to still continue to vote with the democrats, and keep on prospering. We believe the voters of the third party, if they were able to carry out, would bring disaster to the country generally, and especially to the colored people.

There is matter for serious thought in the above; and it is apparent from the drift of politics throughout the country of the state that the colored voter, who has property at stake, and the best interests of his race at heart, is already doing some thinking for himself on this line.

The Constitution recently referred to the newspaper cards which are being published by leading colored men, announcing their return to the democratic ranks, as having great significance. These cards, wherever they have appeared, have been voluntary and outspoken, and in every instance the authors of them have said in substance what our Wilkes county contemporary sets forth in the extract given.

There can be no doubt that the sensible colored voter sees clearly where his interest lies, and that his vote will go to the party which fosters that interest, and more colored votes will be cast for democracy in the coming election than the records have ever shown before.

Wherever colored men have, in the open manner referred to, announced their affiliation with the democratic party, they have at the same time declared that they believed the populists are mistaken, though honest, in pursuing the course they have mapped out; and in each case, they deserted to the democratic from the populist ranks. Their eyes are wide open to the situation and they will not be led astray.

Let them continue to return, with the prodigals everywhere. The success of democracy is certain. It is infinitely better to fight for good government in the winning ranks than to sacrifice time, intelligence and labor in a hopeless cause.

There is room for all on the democratic band wagon. Get in and join the big procession!

Where the People Stand.

While The Gwinnett Herald is one of The Constitution's most valued weekly exchanges it has manifested during the past year or two a tendency toward accepting the gold standard without protest, which is not in keeping with the usual strong utterances of its management. In the current issue of The Herald this statement is made:

The idea has gone abroad over the land that President Cleveland was not in accord with his party, and that when the state convention met and the people spoke, that his administration would be condemned, but it is gratifying to know that the party is unanimous. State after state has expressed entire harmony. Some of them have not agreed fully with him on the silver question, but all accord to him honesty of purpose, and a high and patriotic regard for the true interests of the country.

If the action of state conventions is a reflex of popular opinion, then the people, at least a large majority of his party, agree with him.

The conclusion is entirely erroneous. Not a democratic state convention in the south has endorsed Mr. Cleveland's views on the financial question, for to have made the issue directly on an unqualified endorsement of the destructive policy which brought about the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law would have been to court democratic defeat in several southern states. If the democratic conventions of the south had agreed with Mr. Cleveland's views on the financial question and had been prepared to endorse the fixture of the single gold standard upon the country, it would have been a very simple matter for them to have said so in a very few words expressing unqualified approval; and yet every southern democratic convention, and most of those which have so far been heard from in the western states, very carefully avoided approval of the president's anti-silver policy, which is contrary to the policy of the party and which is not approved by the people, and the result will be seen in the democratic victories in the south this fall, had the democrats been forced to make their fight in these states upon the explicit endorsement of the administration's financial policy they would have done so with the knowledge that such a course would have resulted in party disruption, and, in many instances, in party defeat.

As it is now the party is left to fight for the same principles for which it has been contending for years, and which are now being advocated on the stump in Georgia and in every other southern state. Nowhere do we hear the voice of the goldbug raised in these states in the effort to make it appear that the democratic party has drifted from its ancient moorings. On the other hand, democratic newspapers and democratic orators are preaching democratic doctrine, and the voice of the people is vindicating the southern democratic senators and representatives who, notwithstanding the tremendous pressure brought to bear against them, stood manfully by the people and voted their conviction in favor of the redemption of the democratic platform plank which pledges the use of both gold and silver as standard money metals, "each to be coined without discrimination," which is free coinage.

The "international agreement" will-the-wisp has disappeared in the swamp of financial depression, and louder than ever are the people demanding a return to genuine bimetallism. The truth is, annihilated valuations, reduced wages, idle factories, distressed and dependent labor, and six and seven-cent cotton have combined to make an object lesson which will, in the end, work its own salvation.

Private Contracts and Legal Tender

The artistic way in which The Washington (Ga.) Chronicle manages to muddle public questions in discussing them is both curious and interesting. Its latest trouble is with gold contracts. It saw something in The Constitution about gold contracts, and it undertakes to discuss the matter. It declares that "it is proposed to make a contract to pay in gold illegal. This is advocated by populists and The Atlanta Constitution."

As usual, however, The Chronicle misses the real point of the discussion—the point about which the courts differ, and which is of great interest to all citizens, whether democrats, populists, republicans or prohibitionists. That point is this: can individuals legally enter into a contract which abrogates the authority of the government? Can a private contract give to an individual the right to refuse any form of money which the government declares shall be legal tender in the payment of debts?

It is not a question of gold contracts at all. These have been referred to merely to illustrate the effect of any contract that has the effect of abrogating the power and authority of the government. So far as silver dollars and silver notes are concerned the law expressly provides that they may be outlawed by individuals at their will and pleasure. The Chronicle ought to be able to understand that the silver question upon the ability of the government to confer the legal tender quality on the money that it creates—whether, in fact, the government has the power to make a contract with the people that cannot be abrogated at the will and pleasure of individuals.

It will be seen that the question, considered from this point of view, is of peculiar interest. The courts of the country differ in their decisions, and the matter is of such a character that it cannot be settled off-hand by newspaper editors. But it ought not to be muddled. If The Washington Chronicle, for instance, will ask some of the learned lawyers of Washington-Wilkes, in regard to the right of individuals to abrogate by private contract the power of the government to make legal tender money, our contemporary will find that it has hold of one of the most interesting questions that has lately arisen.

The probability is, however, that The Chronicle did not touch on the question to discuss it, but merely to get in one of its harmless little flings at The Constitution. And yet, there is no reason why a fairly equipped editor should not be able to discuss public questions intelligently and get in little flings at The Constitution, too.

Lame Duck Democrats.

The Monroe Advertiser, one of The Constitution's esteemed state weekly exchanges, in lamenting upon the fact that congress was not able to make a tariff bill strictly conforming with the tariff for revenue pledge of the democratic platform, says:

"Some of those who are in favor of the democratic party, who are not democrats on the tariff, we could not get the tariff as the democratic party demands, but the shortage in this particular should not and cannot be chargeable to the democratic party. But it is chargeable to those lame duck democrats in the senate, who, owing to the slim democratic majority in that body, held the position to prevent such a vote, and if we are to believe the democratic party is anxious to give the people."

As extra loss under the circumstances is an impossibility, the statement in the circular amounts to nothing.

Following hard upon the heels of the telegraphed advertisement came the announcement of the New York cotton exchange that cotton covered by sugar bagging or other closely woven cloth, constituted a good delivery under the rules of the exchange. This settles the matter so far as the cotton buyers of the south are concerned, but it is very important that the newspapers of the south should make the facts known, so that no farmer may blindly become the victim of the cordage trust. The mills do not reject cotton wrapped with sugar bagging, or with any kind of close woven covering that does not weigh more than the established rate.

The point The Constitution has been trying to make, in dealing with the jute bagging combine, is this: That the farmer saves nothing by covering his cotton with bagging that, with the ties, weighs less than thirty pounds to the five-hundred-pound bale, and that it would be to his advantage to cover his cotton with stuff made from the staple itself.

David and Abigail.

Speaking of Colonel B. F. Sawyer's latest book, "David and Abigail," The Baltimore American says:

"B. F. Sawyer is a writer whose each successive story has shown an improvement in conception, style and action over his previous efforts. The latest and title page of a book is now an unquestioned guarantee as to the merits of its contents. In his latest, called "David and Abigail," the author has reached a new height. He all odds, he has yet written.

It is true that he has yet written.

It is based upon rather commonplace lines, it is true that he has yet written.

ALL INDUSTRIALS UP

The Stock Market Was Poverish and Prices Irregular.

RUSSIAN CROP NEWS HURTS WHEAT

Corn Not Suffering as Much as Wheat. Oats Market Active and Strong, and Provisions Up in Price.

NEW YORK, August 22.—The early trading of the stock exchange was characterized by feverishness, and the course of prices was very irregular. A drive was made at the first against the Grangers and Sugar, and the bears were more in evidence than for the days past. The accomplished was, however, still after the expiration of the first hour of business they were compelled to act on the defensive. Their sales in the early trading about a decline of 40% per cent, Missouri Pacific was made at the first against the Grangers and Sugar, and the bears were more in evidence than for the days past. The accomplished was, however, still after the expiration of the first hour of business they were compelled to act on the defensive. Their sales in the early trading about a decline of 40% per cent, Missouri Pacific they advised selling the Granger stocks for a considerable decline and the market for 2 or 3 points.

The tariff bill, that the president might veto, had been introduced again, and influenced some trading. Whatever is done by the president in the matter will not be known until tomorrow and probably not until Friday.

The loan crowd showed a plentiful supply of stocks.

There is a reason for believing that in itself there had some information yesterday morning which led them to market considerable lines of stock. Selling was open, and later in the day interest which was shown in buying sugar and wheat was followed by a further setback.

Rumors that the tariff bill would be vetoed and that a combination had been made which would bring sugar bill would be taken up today, had some influence. Reaction in sugar would seem natural enough even without special news, but the market was not strong, and there has been any definite downturn.

Sugar sold higher yesterday than it has since the spring of 1892.

Railway stocks—Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad for second week in August increased $9.165.

Early Morning Gossip.

Foreign News Company, by private wire to J. C. Knox, manager—Stock opened feverish and weak with considerable pressure to sell Grangers.

Traders were anxious to buy St. Paul and Burlington and Quincy for a turn on account of the increased short interest.

Sugar was raided by Cannock brokers with a view of offsetting the general list, but in the decline supporting orders were disclosed.

Distilling and Cattle Feeding was the same field, and there was a sharp inquiry for both accounts on assurance that the company had secured the balance of the loan from western capitalists and that withdrawals of which at Peoria and Peoria would be suspended.

Chicago Gas was firm and bears hesitated to extend lines as no long stock was disposed of.

New York, the rumor that President Cleveland has signed the tariff bill.

The market was uncertain at the opening but it was evident from the start that traders who had stocks at the close yesterday were nervous.

The more favorable reports by the government weather bureau started covering.

Whisky continued its erratic course and seemed up and down in a most bewildered fashion.

Sugar was taken in hand by Hayemeyer brokers and marked up on the assurance that the Gorman bill was in the works.

Gorman bill and operators showed a decided upturn, but one more.

Distillers led at this time, one firm taking 5,000 shares up to 21. As the concern has been identified with the negotiations looking to the placing of the $50,000 loan to be needed by the company to get its products out of bond, the transaction attracted attention. So far as the loan is concerned, the street is as much mixed as ever. Operators can be found who are in favor of it, and others who are equally certain that the company has not and cannot get the money here. In the meantime, pending the statement from official routes, the manipulators of the stock are milling the street at a great rate. Bigir was forced down 1/2 a point to 12 1/2 at the opening, but soon recovered, and, on good buying, advanced to 11 1/2. In the last hour it suddenly sold off 1 1/2, and the returns were conspicuous in the afternoon rise were the Grangers, Louisville and Nashville, Lake Shore, Missouri Pacific, Northern Pacific, preferred, New England, Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred. The improvement in these ranged from 1/2 to 2 points. American Cotton Oil figured more prominently in the dealings, the common moving up to 2 1/2 to 34, and the preferred up to 77. The afternoon preference was to 55. The afternoon market was materially assisted by the efforts of the bears to cover shorts put out early in the day. The market closed firm, the sudden reaction of 1/2 per cent in sugar having had no influence. The recent sharp rise in silver was considered a big argument in some quarters. It was less active. Net changes show gains of 1/2 to 2 per cent. Distillers leading.

The bond market was very irregular. Sales of listed stocks aggregated 144,000 shares; unlisted, 30,000.

Treasury balances: Coin $76,992,000; currency $80,812,000. Money on call has been easy at 1 per cent, last loan at 1, closing off at 1 per cent; prime mercantile paper 4.94% per cent.

CORN IN GEORGIA.

The Crop Bulletin for This Week Is Quite Interesting.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS ALL AROUND

Acting Chief Observer Gorgas Deserves a Great Deal of Credit—Cotton Is in Good Shape.

The weather crop bulletin issued yesterday by Acting Chief of the Weather Bureau Gorgas is one that is full of interest and brings good news from the farmers of Georgia.

Cotton throughout the state is in splendid condition save for the rust in very few sections and in small quantities. Special reference is made to the corn crop, and it is claimed that it is the best crop made in fourteen years. The report says that in the northwest section of the state there are now bushels of corn raised to where there was one last year. Fodder pulling is announced as nearly completed, especially in south and middle Georgia.

The report as arranged by Mr. Gorgas is thorough and indicates that careful attention is shown to the consolidation of the various reports received at the office.

The following is the report:

"During the past week more or less rain has fallen in all parts of Georgia, and, as a result, there has been a steady improvement in all crops. The cotton is in good shape, with very few rusted and picked has already commenced in the more southern districts. A little rust appears on the stems in a few sections, and some cotton has been pulled out. The condition and reports still indicate that the harvest will be large. Minor crops, such as peas, potatoes, beans, and turnips, are thriving, and the farms are in good shape. The general prospects for a bountiful harvest.

"Bushels of corn will be raised this year in the northwest section of the state where there was one last year. In the memory of many farmers, corn has never looked better. Some state, without fear of contradiction, that this year's crop is much larger and better than any for fifteen years past. And cotton, also, is looking better and better. In the good growing weather conditions there is no telling what cotton may be as good as corn, especially in the north. The prospects are for cotton, considering the serious set-back in the early spring by the freeze, which totally destroyed a major portion of the crop, are not very good. The condition of the minor crops are nearly lost sight of when cotton and corn are thriving as they are. Cotton is blooming and bolting, and the cotton fields are in good condition, beginning to open. The present average growth of cotton over all of this section is probably, yet, at least ten days later than usual. Minor crops, including cane, potato, peas and turnips, are all growing nicely. Watermelons are plentiful and unusually fine.

"Reports received from northern Georgia show that crops are doing extremely well, and that the farmers are very well pleased with the outlook. Sunshine, intermingled with rain, has characterized the weather of the past week. Cotton has a good look and is beginning to open, and the cotton is in the stalk, and it is thought, with another rain or two, it will make a pretty fair crop. Cabbage, turnips and sweet potatoes are blooming and in good condition. Sugar cane is in excellent condition and looks very well. Watermelons are plentiful and unusually fine.

"The weather conditions during the past week have continued favorable for the crops of northeastern Georgia. Corn, well scattered, is in good condition, and, as far as now safe, Fodder pulling is at hand. Cotton is opening. It has a good look, but there is a feeling of uneasiness among the farmers that the final result will be that a good crop may yet be made if there are good seasons and a late fall. In some places it is very weedy and with the bolls are few and far between. In a few points, gardens generally are in fair condition. The pea crop is good. Sugar cane and potatoes have improved and are looking well. Turnips are still sowing young seed. That portion of the crop which is up is in good condition.

"Fine crops are reported all through middle Georgia. Of course there are the usual cotton, corn, and potato crops, but now safe, Fodder pulling is at hand. Cotton is opening. It has a good look, but there is a feeling of uneasiness among the farmers that the final result will be that a good crop may yet be made if there are good seasons and a late fall. In some places it is very weedy and with the bolls are few and far between. In a few points, gardens generally are in fair condition. The pea crop is good. Sugar cane and potatoes have improved and are looking well. Turnips are still sowing young seed. That portion of the crop which is up is in good condition.

"Fine crops are reported all through western Georgia. Of course there are the usual cotton, corn, and potato crops, but now safe, Fodder pulling is at hand. Cotton is opening rapidly, and already a few bales have been made. The cotton is in good condition, and the yield is larger than last year. With a good crop of corn and cotton at hand, farmers are happy. Fodder pulling has been completed. Only the late cotton remains to be stripped of its fodder. Sugarcane, field peas and sweet potatoes are generally doing nicely.

"The weather conditions of the state the past week has been rainy and warm. In some places there was too much rain for the cotton, which is shedding and taking rust. The weather is very hot and humid, and it is shedding off nearly everything but the bolls. In some localities it is opening rapidly, and some farmers have commented on the fact that the crop will be slightly short of an average crop. The corn crop shows up fine since the fodder has been pulled. The crop would have been much better had it received rain earlier in the season. Rice is heading out and is looking well. Peas, potatoes, chufas, sugarcane and forage crops are doing well. Watermelons are about all gone. Gourds and melons are now ripening and there is a good crop.

"Fodder has about all been pulled or housed in the southwest section of the state. The weather conditions are favorable in quality and quantity. Now the farmers are beginning to pick their cotton. Hot weather has caused cotton to open rapidly, and a few bales have already been made. The market is not very active. Speculation is rife relative to the size and prospective yield of the present cotton crop. Many think, as the plant has got a large way, that the cotton yield will be quite large, while it may really be that the plant has grown too much and is not in the best condition of its life. An average year, however, in this section is conceded by all. Corn is going to be a fine, large crop. Sugarcane is growing nicely, and the prospects are that syrup will be plentiful and well. Peas and sweet potatoes are generally growing nicely.

"The cotton fields of the southern counties are in, while picking will soon become general. A few have already begun to pick. Both the long and short staple is opening rapidly. Cotton is shedding and taking rust. The cotton is in good condition, and some farmers have begun picking. Fodder pulling is about over and the yield is not quite as large as was expected. A few of the farmers have turned their gardens, such as turnips, cabbages and collards. Rice is coming out very well, and cotton is also growing. Sweet potatoes are very well. Sugarcane is reported as a very good crop. The upland rice is doing nicely. Watermelons are about gone.

THE STREET CAR MEN

They Have Their Eyes on Atlanta at the Present Time.

MEETING OF THE LOCAL COMMITTEES

They Are Preparing a Fine Programme for the Convention Here—Exhibits Already Arriving.

The convention to be held in Atlanta in October by the American Street Railway Association is beginning to attract a great deal of attention throughout the country.

The gentlemen comprising the various committees, which are to make the arrangements for the convention, held a meeting yesterday morning at the office of Mr. Joel Hurt, president of the Consolidated Street Railway Company.

The following gentlemen were present at the meeting: Messrs. Joel Hurt, N. Y.; L. Brown, E. Woodruff, A. D. Giles, W. W. Kington, C. C. Hurt, J. Carroll Payne and T. K. Glenn.

Applications for space in which to exhibit their goods have been received from firms in New York city, Rochester, N. Y.; Johnson, Pa.; Kingston, N. Y.; Cleveland, O.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Chicago, Ill.; Hartford, Conn.; Baltimore, Md.; Milwaukee, Wis.; New Haven, Conn.; Mansfield, O.; Wilmington, Del.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Brooklyn, N. Y.; Portland, Me.; Cincinnati, O.; Detroit, Mich., and Manchester, Conn.

The total area of space already assigned in 12,000 square feet, not including several applications which are still in indefinite shape.

The list of exhibitors includes nearly all of the prominent railway supply and manufacturing companies in the United States, and new applications for space are being received daily.

The machinery hall at Piedmont park is to be whitewashed, whitewashed and put in a thoroughly good condition so that the exhibits can be seen to the greatest advantage. Part of the building is to be set aside for the auditorium in which the business meetings of the association will be held.

The building will be provided with heating apparatus, though none is likely to be required. There will be a lecture room, and a lavatory will also be provided. In the auditorium a platform will be built and the necessary arrangements made for the seating of the convention.

Some of the exhibits for the convention have already arrived and have been put in place. Other exhibits will arrive within the next few weeks, so the work of putting the machinery hall in proper repair, will begin at once.

The committee on entertainment made its report and it was received.

On the first evening the visitors of the convention, a magnificent banquet will be given at the Capital City Club. This organization has decided to extend to all the members of the association all the privileges of the club during the three days the association is in town.

On the evening of the second day of the convention, a magnificent banquet will be given the members. The place has not yet been selected for giving this banquet, in the afternoon before the banquet the ladies in attendance of the convention will be given a drive over the city in carriages.

On the third day of the convention the visitors will be given a typical Georgia barbecue, but as yet, has not been determined just where this is to be given, but it will be determined to make it a grand affair, one that will not soon be forgotten by those who are fortunate enough to attend it.

On the whole, the entertainment of the delegates to the convention while in this city will not be lacking in variety and interest, and all who attend are certain to have a good time.

The officers of the association are Henry C. Payne of Milwaukee, Wis., president, and W. J. Richardson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., secretary and treasurer.

The convention from the standpoint of a street railway man promises to be a most interesting one. Among the papers to be read at this convention are the following: "Can the T. Rail Be Satisfactorily Used in the South?"—H. H. Hurt, president Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway, Atlanta, Ga.; S. Hendrie, manager Wyandotte and Detroit River Railway, Detroit, Mich.; H. C. Payne, of Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway, Atlanta, Ga.; "City and Suburban Electric Railways,"—E. C. Foster, superintendent Lynn and Boston Mail Express and Freight Service on Street Railways;—R. McCulloch, electrical engineer Citizens Railway, St. Louis, Mo.; "Best Methods of Treating Accidents and Injuries in the Workplace,"—F. C. D. Smith, Chicago, Ill.; "Street Car Wheels and Axels,"—D. S. Coddington, president Franklin Axle Co. Railway Company, Trenton, N. J.; "Transfer and Commutation,"—Rodney Curtis, president Denver Tramway Company, Denver, Colo.; "The Construction of the Terre Haute Street Railway Company, Terre Haute, Ind."—M. F. Burke, superintendent Terre Haute Street Railway Company, Terre Haute, Ind.

"A Standard Form for Accounts for Street Railways,"—H. L. Bettis, consulting engineer Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Clifford L. Snowden, assistant editor of the Street Railway Review, of Chicago, has been in the city for the past few days looking over the ground.

Mr. Snowden, who is a most affable and agreeable young man, says that the outlook is that this convention will be the most large and important, and the most interesting meeting in the history of the association.

In speaking of the coming convention, Mr. Snowden said yesterday: "I think the convention will be attended by at least 1,200 or 1,500 delegates. Atlanta is one of the best advertised cities in the union, and the street railway men throughout the country will gladly embrace the opportunity to visit Atlanta."

"The south has awakened wonderfully in the last two or three years in the street railway industry. In fact, the south has made more rapid and steady progress in this time than any other section of the country.

"Although I have heard much of Atlanta, I was most agreeably surprised to find that the city is an interesting and thriving city. After carefully observing Atlanta, street railway system, I am convinced that it is one of the best equipped and best conducted systems in the country."

"There is no question but that Atlanta can accomplish wonders. The Hood's Saraparilla, even if you suffer from a chronic complaint. Regularity and persistency in taking the medicine will have its reward."

"The cotton fields of the southern counties are in, while picking will soon become general. A few have already begun to pick. Both the long and short staple is opening rapidly. Cotton is shedding and taking rust. The cotton is in good condition, and some farmers have begun picking. Fodder pulling is about over and the yield is not quite as large as was expected. Sugarcane is reported as a very good crop. The upland rice is doing nicely. Watermelons are about gone."

"The weather conditions of the state the past week has been rainy and warm. In some places there was too much rain for the cotton, which is shedding and taking rust. The cotton is in good condition, and some farmers have begun picking. Fodder pulling is about over and the yield is not quite as large as was expected. A few of the farmers have turned their gardens, such as turnips, cabbages and collards. Rice is coming out very well, and cotton is also growing. Sweet potatoes are very well. RECEIVER'S SALE OF SAW MANUFACTURING CO.

Plant, Machinery and Material.

The undersigned, W. L. Peel, receiver in the case of the Gutta Percha Rubber Manufacturing Co. et al. vs. Southern Saw Manufacturing Co., will be holding in Fulton superior court, by virtue of an order of court passed in said case, offers for sale, and asks for bids upon the following property, to-wit:

The real estate belonging to said Southern Saw Manufacturing Company, described as follows:

Lying and being in the town of East Point, in land lot No. 156 of the 14th district of originally Henry, but now Fulton county, Georgia, containing at a post situated in the 14th district, originally Henry, now Fulton county, Georgia, commencing on a point on the east side of McDaniel street, 100 feet from northward corner of McDaniel and Marietta streets, and running thence north one hundred and twenty-five (125) feet, more or less, to the corner of the 14th district, originally Henry, where it returns to the Wissinger, while Mrs. Byrd sold her mother and everybody in the house of what she had done. She also wrote her husband an anonymous note relating the escape, and later demanded the divorce. Mr. Byrd first satisfied himself that Rockwell had not offered his wife any insult, and instead of instituting proceedings placed her in a private asylum for the insane, the Long Island home of Amityville, where she remained for months.

When Mrs. Byrd was released from the Long Island home she said she would return to Atlanta, but got no further than New York. She refused to go back to her husband; her morbidity increased, and twice she attempted suicide at the Bristol house, once almost succeeding.

After repeated efforts, she would kill herself if not given the divorce a family consultation was held and under the idea that the proceedings could be managed without publicity the divorce was applied for in June, and in July the decree was granted.

So the unfortunate master stood until Mr. Byrd went to New York. He left Mrs. Bryan and his little son in New York with Mrs. Byrd.

A Correction.

The article in yesterday's paper referring to the police in New Orleans was to a certain extent, somewhat misleading. Here are the facts in the case:

The contract was awarded Eiseman & Weil, 15 Whitehall street, whose bid was decidedly the lowest, and the police will save just $14.00 on each suit. The saving of the officers in about the same proportion, the belts and epaulettes which will be fastened with rings through eyelets, will be an improvement over the old way of sewing them on. The material to be used is the "Standard Military Cloth," twenty-two ounce cloth for coats, and very light, twenty-four ounce for pants and twenty-six ounce for overcoats, each garment to be made in four pieces. All uniforms are to be delivered by October 1st.

This is undoubtedly one of the best contracts ever made for the police, and our public safety is assured.

Eiseman & Weil, 15 Whitehall street, Atlanta, will be open for all the Potomac river traffic, and we have Merrimac and George Washington, Al- Petersburg, Richmond, and caravans through coaches. Passenger Agent.

WHO GETS THE PLUM?

Several Attorneys Who Want the Solicitorship of the City Court.

TO BE APPOINTED BY THE GOVERNOR

It is a Paying Position and Several Attorneys Are in the Field—Will Not Be Vacant for More Than a Year.

Who is going to be the next solicitor of the city court?

This is a pertinent question which is now going the rounds of the Atlanta bar and one which imposes upon the new chief executive a grave responsibility.

Mr. L. W. Thomas, the present solicitor, who has exercised the functions of the office for the past three years and who has made an excellent prosecuting attorney, may be a candidate for the position, but he has not as yet formally entered the field.

It will be one of the first duties incumbent upon Mr. Atkinson, after taking his oath of office as governor, to appoint a prosecuting attorney for the city court of Atlanta. The office is one which pays an excellent compensation in the fees attached to it and one which any bright young lawyer might covet without compromising his prospects. It brings him in touch with the brightest legal talent at the bar and gives him an opportunity to cope intellectually with the leading representatives of the profession.

Among those who have been mentioned in connection with the position are Messrs. Dan W. Rountree, A. C. Wilcoxon, Jim O'Neill, Bob Blackburn, E. P. Upshaw, T. W. Rucker, the assistant district attorney, Mr. L. P. Skeen, and J. W. Austin. Others may enter the ring before the contest is decided, but the race will be one of unusual ardor and the successful competitor will have every reason to be proud of his victory.

The friends of Mr. A. C. Wilcoxon intend to make a vigorous fight in his behalf. The advantage which he has in the race is that he hails from Coweta county, the home of Mr. Atkinson. Mr. Wilcoxon has been a practicing attorney in this city for about two years. He has pushed his way rapidly to the front and is one of the most promising young members of the profession.

The candidates who are in the field are all strong men and will go before the governor well endorsed.

The solicitor to be appointed, however, will not enter upon the discharge of his duties until the 1st of February, 1894.

For Pointing a Pistol.

D. C. Graff was tried in the city court yesterday morning on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and also for pointing a pistol at another with the intention of shooting.

Crawford McGee was the prosecutor in both cases. The defendant was represented by his attorney, Mr. R. J. Jordan, and Solicitor Thomas appeared for the state. A number of witnesses were examined on both sides and the case was carefully argued.

At 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the jury retired to make up a verdict, but no conclusion was reached before the adjournment of court in the afternoon.

Two Balliffs Fight.

The last case which was taken up was the one of the state against George A. Ray, charged with assault and battery.

Ray is a balliff in Judge Bloodworth's court and the prosecutor, J. A. Speer, is also a balliff in the same court. The two men disagreed over a paper and came to blows at the top of the stairway leading into the courtroom on Hunter street. Ray was the larger and stronger of the two men, and the force of his blows was such that Balliff Speer was obliged to turn aside his teeth, several of which were scattered over the floor. In consequence of this fact and charges that Balliff Ray was the aggressor in the difficulty, a criminal action was instituted by Balliff Speer.

The case will be concluded before Judge Westmoreland this morning.

A Card to the Public.

Atlanta, Ga., August 20, 1894.
To the Editor of The Constitution:—In a circular which we had distributed on Saturday appears the following:

The Columbian Cyclopedia cannot be termed a standard work, as there is no one of note or reputation connected with its editorial work.

It is a mere compilation here. Mr. Archer, of the Columbian Cyclopedia, informs us that the above statement is incorrect; that Rev. Richard Gleason Green, A. M., is the editor-in-chief.

If this is the case we gladly make the necessary correction and withdraw from the public this part of our circular. The circular was not issued with the intent of injuring the reputation of the Columbian Cyclopedia, but as a mere advertisement to draw trade and attention to our large and well-arranged stock of books.
